

HEALTH FOR ALL

Universal Health Coverage Day

12 DECEMBER 2014

---

Two years ago on 12 December, the United Nations unanimously endorsed a resolution urging governments to ensure all people have access to quality health care without financial hardship. On 12 December 2014, a global civil society coalition will urge that universal health coverage be a cornerstone of the sustainable development agenda and a priority for all nations.

Join us in making the first-ever Universal Health Coverage Day a success.

A LANDMARK COMMITMENT

---

The United Nations resolution on universal health coverage affirms:

- The right of every person to have the opportunity for the highest standard of health
- The responsibility of governments to urgently scale up universal access to quality health care
- The promise of health for all to create a fairer, more resilient society

A GLOBAL SHOW OF SOLIDARITY

---

On 12 December 2014, civil society in every country are invited to participate in Universal Health Coverage Day:

- DISPLAY

a prominent sign of support for universal health coverage, such as on your website, blog or social media profile.

- INVITE

your community to join in Universal Health Coverage Day, including political and religious leaders and media.

- EDUCATE

your networks about the important linkages between the issues you work on and universal access to health.

Closer to the date, a logo and other communications tools will be circulated

A UNIQUE OPPORTUNITY

---

Health for all is an attainable goal. More than 70 countries of all income levels have already taken steps toward universal health coverage. Inclusion of universal health coverage in the sustainable development agenda will hold countries accountable for greater action.

---

Organizations supporting Universal Health Coverage Day include:

The Rockefeller Foundation • World Health Organization • The World Bank Group Management Sciences for Health • Public Health Foundation of India • Oxfam • Save the Children